"It Shall Come to Pass"

By Bro. Ozell

The Lord proclaimed "it shall come to pass" and it has and will as prophecy reveals itself. Deuteronomy 28 affects our everyday walk in life, from the food and information we consume to the words we speak. It would be wise to read about the curses along with the national and local news. Prophecy includes not only international or national events; prophecy affects the everyday person, especially the people referred to as Israel in the bible.

Revelation 19:10 And I fell at his feet to worship him. And he said unto me, See thou do it not: I am thy fellowservant, and of thy brethren that have the testimony of Jesus: worship God: for the testimony of Jesus is the spirit of prophecy.

"The Origins of Holy Water"

By Sis. BJ Israel

According to Wikipedia, Holy water is water that has been blessed by a member of a clergy or religious figure. Several religions use the idea of holy water for spiritual cleansing and some like the Anglican and Catholic Church use holy water for protection against evil or evil spirits. At many Catholic churches, you will find a font or stoup (small vessel) at the entrance containing so-called holy water for parishioners to use to cleanse themselves symbolically. In the Middle Ages holy water was protected with locks on the fonts to prevent its theft. So the question is, is this practice or even the idea of holy water biblical?

The following article is used with permission from 'Gotquestions.org.'

Question: "What does the Bible say about holy water?"

Answer: The Bible is silent about holy water the way it is used today. For baptism, Matthew 3:11 speaks of "baptizing with water for repentance," with nothing in the context suggesting that the water itself is holy. Baptism is a symbolic ritual, identifying oneself with Christ's death, burial, and resurrection. A closer parallel to the modern use of holy water would be God's laws in the Old Testament, which required cleaning ritually unclean things with water...

...to purify them before one could touch them (see Leviticus 15, 16, and 17:15). See also a specific reference to ritually unclean people in Numbers 19:17.

Holy water is now permanently retained at the entrance of Catholic churches, blessed at the first of each lunar month, and sprinkled over patrons as they enter. This practice was created to supplant the pagan celebration of the new moon, according to Canon 65 of the Council of Constantinople (691). According to the Catholic Encyclopedia, the earliest modern uses of holy water appear in the ninth century. With that, coupled with the New Testament's silence regarding the practice and use of holy water, it can be concluded that the tradition of holy water was created for the sole purpose of putting a pagan ceremony out of commission, using a scant few biblical references to water for purification.

Any practice that makes us feel closer to God and furthers our walk with Him should be encouraged (cf. Romans 14, esp. v23) but also consider 1 Corinthians 6:12 – If a practice is beneficial to a relationship with God, keep it; otherwise, throw it away. This is all the more true when said practice has little biblical foundation. The Bible nowhere instructs Christians to use "holy water" in any way, shape, or form. The Catholic use of holy water is not biblical.

Indeed, it is not. The most precious water is the Word of God (living water), which if we thirst for it, we will receive it and grow into productive and disciplined servants of God.

Peace in Jesus' name!

"Focus on taking inventory of one's self today, let it begin with me."

With the whole world spinning out of control as it is today, we had better hold on as never before to the Almighty's Word and stay focused. If not, we might get caught up in the spin, and become unable to grasp on to anything--meaning anything can happen to anyone at any given time. Many of us today are just idle, especially the younger generation, who are not taught about Jesus. Jesus is not on the agenda, and the word of Almighty God is of none effect in so many lives throughout the world. Today, we are busy with everything, yet God Almighty says he is a jealous God. [Exodus 20:5 and Deut. 6:13-14-15] Children are not taught at all about the Creator at home and it is forbidden to teach about Him in school. So what do we have for tomorrow's generation? Evil times and evil forces in the atmosphere with no protection and no armor (Word of God).

We have to be very careful in our conversations and about everything we say as servants of God. Our words can be misconstrued and ungodly conversation can be used against us. So let us think twice and speak once to keep peace, love, and to bridge the gap where there is confusion and discord. As we know, people often hold grudges from simple misunderstandings and some (even family members) don't speak for years because of hurt feelings and/or feelings of belittlement. If we will just humble ourselves and learn to say "I'm sorry," many relationships may be saved. Consider taking the "high road" "be the bigger person" – apologize; nothing will be lost but, much will be gained. Let us all practice saying ... "I apologize!" Acknowledge that we may have hurt someone's feelings because in some cases, all people want is to be vindicated. If we stay focused on the word of Almighty God we can sometimes feel if something is wrong or if we have hurt others.

Let us check ourselves often to see if we treat each other like we would want to be treated. As Jesus said, what we do for the least of these is the same we do for him [Matthew 25:35-45].

"A Special Note of Thanks"

Allow me please to say this: I'm so very grateful to Almighty God for letting me see my 80th birthday. I'm also very thankful to my children for caring enough to want to surprise me with a celebration that I will forever remember--it was such a beautiful and pleasant affair. Your actions spoke much louder than words! Thank you and bless you, Mama. To my committee that's after my own heart--thank you for your presence at my birthday celebration and for your contribution--I won't ever forget you. -- Blessings to the Repast committee.

Spiritual food for the mind -- Prov. 6:16-19, Ecc.12:13-14, 1 John 3:4, 2Chron. 7:14, Isa 58:13-14.

Please know it's how we think and what we eat that equals good health. Please drink enough water to help ward off many illnesses.

Inspiration!

Proverbs 1:8-16 & 7:1-4

My son, hear the instruction of thy father, and forsake not the law of thy mother: (9) For they shall be an ornament of grace unto thy head, and chains about thy neck. (10) My son, if sinners entice thee, consent thou not. (11) If they say, Come with us, let us lay wait for blood, let us lurk privily for the innocent without cause: (12) Let us swallow them up alive as the grave; and whole, as those that go down into the pit: (13) We shall find all precious substance, we shall fill our houses with spoil: (14) Cast in thy lot among us; let us all have one purse: (15) My son, walk not thou in the way with them; refrain thy foot from their path: (16) For their feet run to evil, and make haste to shed blood.

My son, keep my words, and lay up my commandments with thee. (2) Keep my commandments, and live; and my law as the apple of thine eye. (3) Bind them upon thy fingers, write them upon the table of thine heart. (4) Say unto wisdom, Thou art my sister; and call understanding thy kinswoman:

Praise the name of JESUS!

"A Review of Sleepy Hollow"

I watched this program when it first aired and was surprised by all of the Biblical references used in it. What I found disheartening is that prophecy is being twisted to fit their plot. The town has a population of 144,000 and the two lead characters are supposedly the 'two witnesses' that are not there to preach the gospel but to stop the four horsemen of the apocalypse from carrying out their duties. They believe they can stop them by keeping the headless horseman from getting his head back. I would suggest that if you allow your children to watch this program to please inform them of what Biblical prophecy really says. Also, there are warnings at the beginning of each episode for graphic violence.

Peace and blessings in Jesus' name
