SOW YOUR SEEDS INTO GOOD GROUND

We have been recharging our bodies and minds during the cold winter months. Our main focus and obligation has been to get closer to the Lord while essentially hibernating. We lie dormant in our homes reflecting, reading and praying. Our passion to receive salvation is resilient, and during our rejuvenation it is important to stay on the right path, the path that is straight and narrow.

Our intentions are simple: to be hearers and doers of the word. This is our time to sow seeds that will develop into the plants that bear good fruit. Many times the cares of this world can cause us to be unfruitful because the Word has been choked out by deceitfulness. It is imperative that we are deeply rooted to prevent us from falling away from the Lord and his Word.

“When any one heareth the word of the kingdom, and understandeth it not, then cometh the wicked one, and catcheth away that which was sown in his heart. This is he which received seed by the way side. But he that received the seed into stony places, the same is he that heareth the word, and anon with joy receiveth it; Yet hath he not root in himself but dureth for a while: for when tribulation or persecution ariseth because of the word, by and by he is offended. He also that received seed among the thorns is he that heareth the word; and the care of this world, and the deceitfulness of riches, choke the word, and he becometh unfruitful. But he that received seed into the good ground is he that heareth the word, and understandeth it; which also beareth fruit, and bringeth forth, some an hundredfold some sixty, some thirty. “Matthew 13: 19-23

As you read to ripen your relationship with the Lord, it is important that we pray for understanding. Do not allow the wicked one to come along and take away the seed that was sown in your heart. Instead, receive seed into good ground and bear good fruit! Don't let your hibernating be in vain.

As you get news the fruit of your womb is no longer in tune with your body,

Immediately your hands caress your belly, eyes start watering, ears block the sound of everybody.

The doctor lips are moving but you don't hear the words, trying to make sense of what you heard.

Your thoughts are effortlessly resuscitating the fruit of your womb.

Hoping the connection between you two can sustain life but in reality there's nothing more you can do.

Your mind tries so hard to comprehend, the journey of pregnancy has come to an abrupt end.

Spiraling out of control - you're inwardly screaming

Wait... no baby I will hold, no soft hair to brush, no smooth skin to smell, no clipping of little toe nails?

Wait.... no feedings from my breast, no skin chest to chest, no lullaby's to sing, no pushing in safety swings?

Wait.... no coos, no swaddling, no comforting after hollering.

Wait... my body has failed me, this can't be the woman God created me to be.

Wait.... why God, why me? Why did I lose my baby?

Did I do something wrong, is this a test?
No child, understand that God knows best!

HISTORY

SLAVE TRADE BROUGHT ON BY OUR TRANSGRESSION AGAINST OUR GOD

Israel! Are there any signs that could identify this people? Where are they at now? Furthermore, the condition they're in. The answer is yes to these questions and many more using the bible. We arrive at this conclusion by reason of the Bad Treatment then and now. These conditions were prophesied as a sign, so that they can be readily identified and came upon us because the Israelites failed to keep the laws and commandments of God. God promised the Israelites that if they failed to obey Him, he would curse them and eventually have them removed from their land. It was also prophesied that they would be carried as slaves into every nation upon the earth. Not just North and South America! Israel failed to keep the commandments so God kept his promise and we fell under the curse.

Until recently, the subject of childhood under slavery was almost entirely unstudied. This was true even though childhood is central to an understanding of slavery. Most abandoned children were a major source of slaves. In the American South in the decades before the Civil War, half of all slaves were under the age of 16.9900

Cases in which black people were killed by the police or died in their custody have risen to national prominence in recent years, often Few police officers ever face trial for shooting deaths, let alone are convicted. Fatal shootings of unarmed black men across the United States have sparked outrage and concerns over police use of lethal force. Despite several high-profile cases and increased video evidence, convictions have been rare.

People of color account for 37% of the US population, yet they represent 67% of the prison population. Black men are nearly six times as likely to be incarcerated as white men, and federal courts imposed prison sentences on black men that were 19% longer than those imposed on similarly situated white men between 2011 and 2016.

All the major European powers were involved in this enterprise, but by the early 18th century, Britain became the world's leading slave trading power. It's estimated that British ships were responsible for the forced transportation of at least 2-3 million. So dominant were British ships and merchants that they carried away captives not only to British colonies in North America and the Caribbean but even to the colonies of their main economic rivals, the French and Spanish, as well as to others. Almost 5 million people were imported into Brazil, but also sent to most of the colonies of South and Central America and the Caribbean, as well as to what became the United States.

32 Thy sons and thy daughters shall be given unto another people, and thine eyes shall look, and fail with longing for them all the day long; and there shall be no might in thine hand.

41 Thou shalt beget sons and daughters, but thou shalt not enjoy them; for they shall go into captivity.

DEUTERONOMY 28:32, 41

4 Thus saith the Lord my God; Feed the flock of the slaughter;

5 Whose possessors slay them, and hold themselves not guilty: and they that sell them say, Blessed be the Lord; for I am rich: and their own shepherds pity them not.

Z E C H A R I A H 11:5

22 But this is a people robbed and spoiled; they are all of them snared in holes, and they are hid in prison houses: they are for a prey, and none delivereth; for a spoil, and none saith, Restore.

I S A I A H 42:22

64 And the Lord shall scatter thee among all people, from the one end of the earth even unto the other; and there thou shalt serve other gods, which neither thou nor thy fathers have known, even wood and stone.

65 And among these nations shalt thou find no ease, neither shall the sole of thy foot have rest: but the Lord shall give thee there a trembling heart, and failing of eyes, and sorrow of mind:

66 And thy life shall hang in doubt before thee; and thou shalt fear day and night, and shalt have none assurance of thy life:

EVIL IN A DIFFERENT FORM

JADE WATSON and ELIZABETH DRINKARD

As you enter adulthood you'll find yourself completely surrounded by new people. You'll go to new places and do new things. Some of these new situations may involve toxic people or bad experiences. When it's all said and done, you'll realize that you've encountered evil in some way, shape, or form. In this article, we will list a couple of scenarios and list three ways in which you can handle the situation. Of course we know that everyone's experiences aren't always going to be the same so try to place some of the examples in your terms.

Contrary to mainstream media's depiction of evil, evil doesn't appear as a scary nun, or a killer doll.
In fact, evil looks just like you or me.

Evil: Profoundly immoral and malevolent. Synonyms: wicked, bad, wrong, immoral, sinful

1. You've just started working a new job. Your job is pretty easy and the best part about it is that you can get free food and work with people your age! A co-worker by the name of Jane befriends you and you all start hanging out after work. Immediately, she begins talking about all of your other co-workers. She even starts sharing very personal information about certain co-workers to you. You are not amused with the gossip however, you don't say anything to stop her from sharing it with you. You hang out with Jane a couple of more times and realize that all she ever does is gossip and talks bad about others. You realize that everyone she talks about she seems friendly with them every day at work. So you begin to wonder what's being said about you.

What should you do?

1. Continue being Jane's friend and pay no mind to the gossip.
2. Stop being Jane's friend and abruptly cut off all communication with her.
3. Jeopardize the friendship by explaining how wrong she is for gossiping.

We've all encountered a "Jane" in some fashion before. Though the gossip that Jane spews may either be juicy to you or just down right distasteful, it's important to recognize her behavior. Jane's evilness and tale bearing can take a toll on you if you can continue to condone her behavior. Jane, will certainly suck up all of your positive energy with her negativity and you will be drained any time you converse with her. If Jane's negativity doesn't drain you, you will soon begin to mirror her behavior. Avoid personalities like Jane because nothing good will come from her.

2. You've been dating Aaron for a couple of months now. One day, you all get into a small disagreement and Aaron begins yelling at you. You choose to apologize to Aaron to stop the fight. You think to yourself that Aaron displayed aggression that wasn't cool. After that day, the two of you are arguing much more often and every single time Aaron is the one that starts the arguments. Aaron also begins grabbing your arms forcibly or even nudging you in the midst of the arguments.

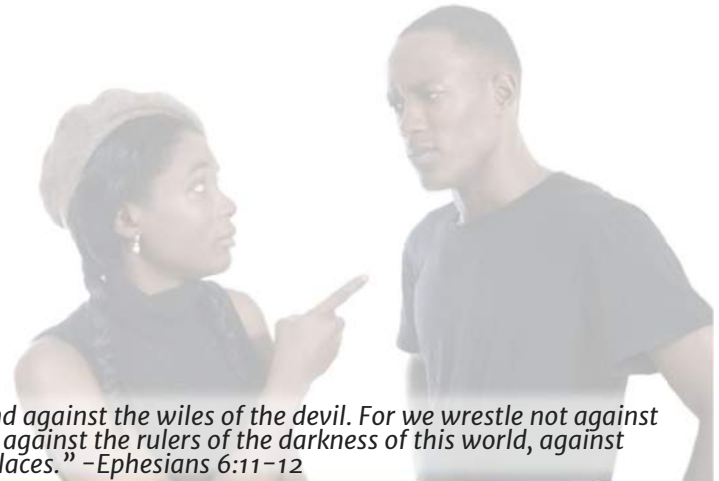

What should you do?

1. Immediately break up with Aaron
2. Inform an older adult (parents, teacher, etc...) and get their advice
3. Stay with Aaron and just hope the relationship gets better

There aren't always wrong answers to scenarios. However, if you chose number 3 you are WRONG! It is never okay for a boyfriend or girlfriend to put their hands on you. Abuse, verbally, emotionally, or physically always starts off small. It's like a little whisper that grows louder and louder until it's a full blown shout. In relationships you need to immediately recognize signs wickedness and get out. We can ensure you that abusive behavior is pure evil and no matter how much you try in there the abuser will NOT change.

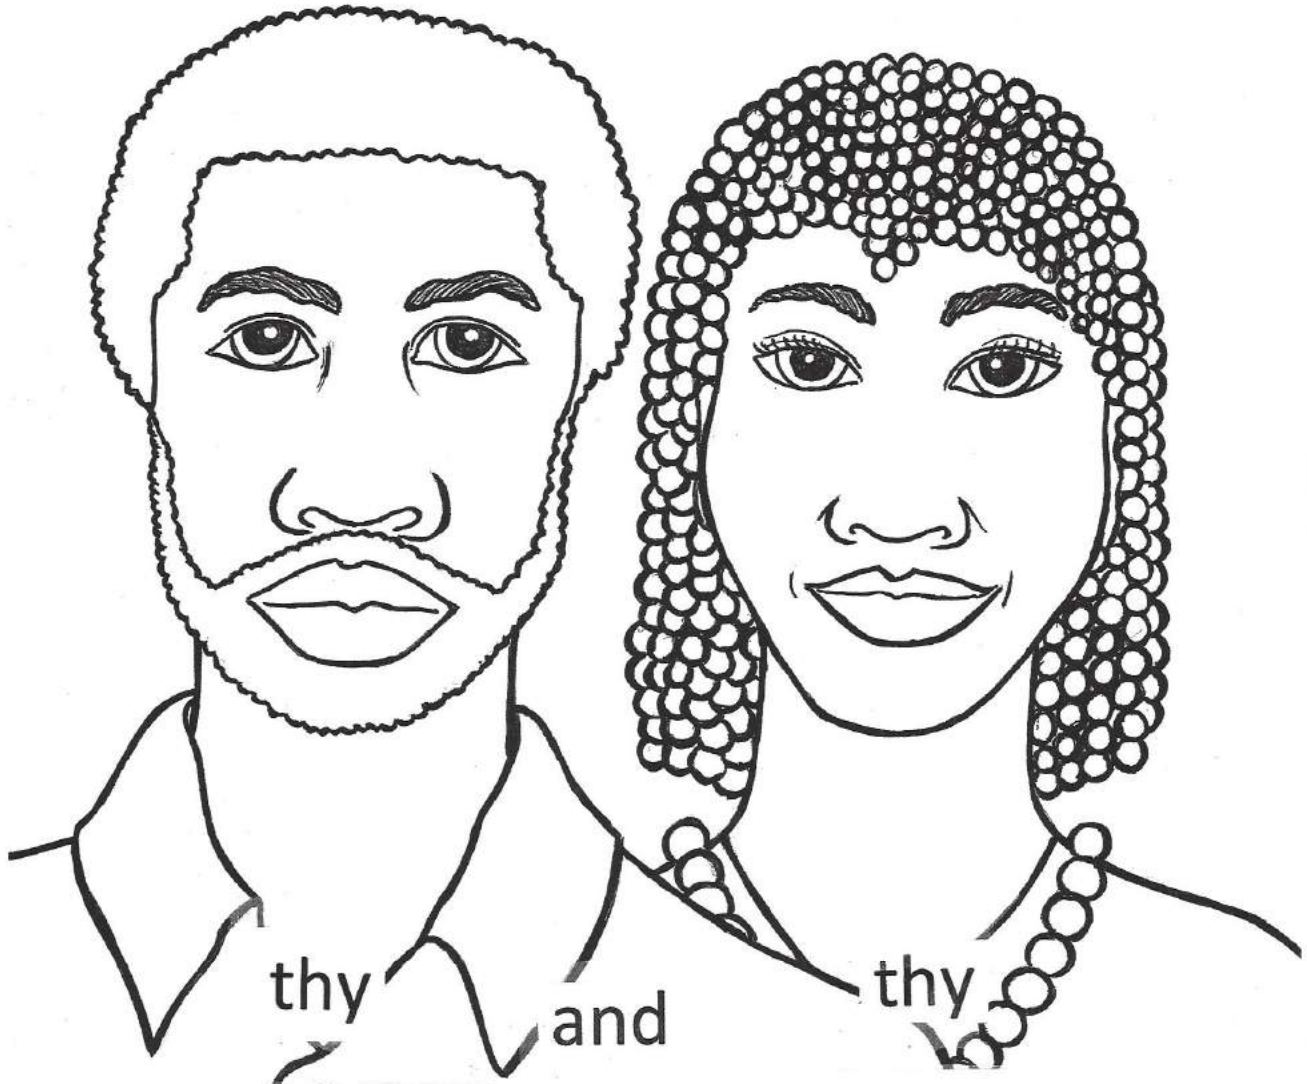

Love yourself and trust that God can deliver you from anything. Love shouldn't hurt; seek guidance from your elders and listen to their words.

Remember to always be vigilant when faced with evil.

"Put on the whole armour of God, that ye may be able to stand against the wiles of the devil. For we wrestle not against flesh and blood but against principalities, against powers, against the rulers of the darkness of this world, against spiritual wickedness in high places." -Ephesians 6:11-12
